NUMBER 46.

WINNES TO BE TRIED IN APRIL

Judge Overrules The Motion To Quash Indictment

Hung Jury Results In Parsons Case—Clash During Deliberation

Harlan, Ky.—The jury trying Dr. H. C. Winnes for the murder of Miss Lura Parsons was discharged Friday afternoon after the lone juror, who for four days and nights clung to his stand for conviction, threatened with knife drawn to do violence to any juror who persisted in arguing with him. The following developments followed in quick succession:

Judge Davis overruled a motion for the defense to quash the indictment on the ground that two of the twelve grand jurors returning it had failed to hear the testimony.

A. Floyd Byrd, special prosecutor, announced that the Commonwealth would ask a change of venue at the next trial, which the defense will oppose.

The case was reset for trial at the next term of court for Friday, April 15th.

Winnex Gives Bond.

Dr. Winnes' bond, formerly $10,000, was reduced to $5,000, which was signed by a dozen business and professional men of Harlan.

Commonwealth's Attorney, Grant Forester announced that it is unlikely that any negro convict will be charged for the crime until after Dr. Winnes is acquitted or convicted.

Defense attorneys announced they would investigate with a view of indictment persistent reports that Moses Brewer, gray-haired mountaineer, who hung the jury, had expressed opinion before the trial that Dr. Winnes was guilty.

The outcome of the trial brought forth various comments.

"It's a shame Brewer couldn't listen to reason. He wouldn't let us argue with him," was the composite statement of eleven for acquittal.

Conviction Believed Improvable.

"We will oppose any move to dismiss the indictment," said Mrs. Ethel DeLong Zande, head of the Pine Mountain Settlement School.

"I don't think Dr. Winnes will ever be convicted under the evidence, but I will not ask that the indictment be dismissed," Commonwealth's Attorney Forester said.

"We will not circulate a petition asking the Commonwealth's Attorney to dismiss it. We want Dr. Winnes vindicated by twelve jurors as he should have been this time. But we are going to ask for donations from the public for him," D. C. Jones, counsel for defense, said.

"My father always taught me that what will be will be. I know I never will be convicted. I guess everything is for the best," was Dr. Winnes' statement.

"I'd like to talk to Mr. Brewer for a few minutes," Mrs. Winnes said.

Only a few persons besides those interested were in the courtroom when the jury was discharged. It was all very casual. There were no tears, no show of bitterness, no tearing of hair. The legal steps to arrange for the next trial were gone through with quiet and without waste of words or display of feeling. It was a colorless anti-climax to the mountains' greatest trial. Judge Davis' preserving hope for a verdict virtually was abandoned after he had talked to the jurors in the morning.

"How can we reach a verdict when one man refuses to try the case on the law of evidence, but insists on his personal opinion?" one of the jurors asked the judge. Moses Brewer turned quickly in his chair. His face was red with anger.

Judge Addresses Jurors.

"Don't you charge me with not trying this case on the law and evidence," he shouted. The judge talked to them for ten or fifteen minutes. He told them about how important it was to reach a verdict and said no one should allow his personal feelings to influence him.

"All of you swore before you were accepted as jurors that you had no personal feeling in the case and I feel sure you swore the truth," he told them. "However, if any personal feeling has come to you during the time you should not let it influence you." He instructed them to return to their room and try again for a short time and promised to dismiss them if they did not agree.

"I'm sick, Judge," Brewer said, as he walked to the juryroom. "I can't stand it much longer." They hardly had the juryroom closed when the

R. D. McMURTRY

Appointed As County Road Supervisor.

At a special meeting of the Fiscal Court held last Monday, Mr. R. D. McMurry, of Buena Vista, was unanimously chosen as County Road Supervisor for Garrard county, succeeding Dr. J. A. Amon, who "resigned" several weeks ago. Mr. McMurry has taken his examination before the proper authorities at Frankfort and has been issued his certificate as such. He assumes his duties at once, and will move with his family into town in the next few days.

The road supervisor of any county has a "hard row to hoe" and his will be many, everyone thinking that his road is in the worst condition and should be looked after at once. Mr. McMurry says he proposes to give his entire time to his work and will use his best energies, as far as the financial income will permit, to improve the roads of Garrard county as they have never been done before.

The roads are getting almost impassable, conditions in some parts of the county and many of the good roads need a few holes filled which if done now will save many dollars for the tax payers of the county. Mr. McMurry's salary was fixed at $1,800 a year.

Deputy Sheriff heard sounds of a disturbance. He went in to find Brewer with a knife in his hand admonishing the other jurors to leave him alone and not argue with him further.

Sheriff Sent To Room

"I'll whip any man who names this thing to me again," he is quoted as saying. The deputy sheriff reported to the judge and the judge ordered the sheriff into the room. The excitement subsided but the judge's optimism had received its last blow. However, he decided not to dismiss them until after dinner.

At 2 o'clock he called the jury before him.

"Gentlemen, is there any chance for a verdict?" he asked.

"No, sir," Foreman G. A. Smith's emphatic answer left no room for doubt. The judge expressed his disappointment and thanked the jurors for their long efforts.

"You may go."

Never did twelve men seem so anxious to get away from one another. They all broke for fresh air. Later, most of them returned and talked to Dr. Winnes. G. A. Smith, banker, told a newspaper correspondent of how the jury knelt in prayer when they first went to the juryroom Monday night.

"We took the ballot then and ten were for acquittal and two for conviction," he said. "We did not discuss the case further that night. The next morning, after a short deliberation, a second vote was taken. It stood eleven to one, Brewer thru out acted unreasonable. He refused to be pinned down on the evidence but would turn off on something else every time. For the last two days we hardly attempted to convince him."

Task Given Up.

"We gave it up as a hopeless proposition. He got so he wouldn't let us argue with him," said Arthur Henley, a juror.

"The other night in the room he made us leave him alone. At one time he said Dr. Winnes and Jerry Reed might have killed her, yet he would not acquit the doctor."

Brewer was smiling as the jury was dismissed. A short time later he walked away from the Court house with Mrs. Zande, of the settlement school. It was learned that Obahiah Coudill, also an old man, was the other juror who voted for conviction of the first time.

So, five months after the assault and murder of the teacher on the Pine Mountain trail, Dr. Winnes' drawnout fight for legal exoneration has failed.

Dr. Winnes returned with his family to Cincinnati with the charge still over his head.

A warrant charging Jerry Reed negro convict, of murder still exists and the next grand jury will investigate his case. Each case hinges on circumstantial evidence. The mystery is still unsolved.

JUDGE HARDIN

Calls a Party Meeting

He Wants Candidate For Legislature Selected.

Judge Charles A. Hardin, Harrodsburg, chairman of the Democratic State Central and Executive Committees, has written a letter to the Democratic executive head in each county, urging that each call a conference of Democratic leaders in his county to name candidates for the legislature.

The letter follows: "The situation confronting the Democratic party is of grave and serious importance.

Says State Is Democratic

"The last election has demonstrated beyond a doubt that the State is Democratic and the only way the Republicans can ever in the future succeed in obtaining control of the State's affairs is through the negligence and carelessness of the Democratic voters. Any misstep may lead to serious results. The Democratic party must first prove its right to dominate the opinion of the State by presenting to the voters a candidate to represent them in the General Assembly men of worth, character and ability; men whose very name will be a guarantee that the policies of the party will be carried out intelligently and effectively, and the hopes of those who are looking for the best will not be defeated.

"Controversy builds walls," "conferences build bridges." Can you not at once bring about a quiet conference in your senatorial and legislative districts among chosen men, looking to obtaining candidates, keeping down opposition and disturbances, and especially choosing such men as the importance of the hour demands? If a lawyer select a man of such ability as will meet the requirements and demands of the highest judicial office. If such can be obtained.

Wants Leader In Community

"If a man outside the profession of law, select a man of like standing in his profession or business, as the case may be, and see to it he is an outstanding man who has the confidence of his constituency both as to character and ability to accomplish things and make laws for a self-respecting people.

"The call for service should come from the people and not from candidate or faction.

"With great confidence that you will immediately gather together the influence necessary to obtain the result. I am very sincerely yours.

Advertising Necessary.

Statistics furnished by a financial agency, not itself in the publishing business, shows that, of the corporations that went into bankruptcy in 1920, 84 per cent were firms which "did not advertise." The exhibit is most impressive, and the facts are that judicious advertising and judicious "following up" of advertising are almost essential to business success. There never was greater error than that money spent in advertising represents economic waste. Advertising is absolutely necessary under the competitive system.—Louisville Post.

Moberly.

Mrs. Susan H. Moberley died Friday, February 4th, 1921 at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John E. Anderson in Point Leavell with whom she had been living for several years.

Mrs. Moberley was the only daughter of F. W. and Mary A. Champ and was born near Point Lick Feb. 2nd, 1847. June 15, 1865, she was married to W. A. Moberley, who died in 1903. She is survived by two brothers, Robt. F. and James T. Champ, of Point Lick and two daughters, Mrs. J. Thomas Ralston, of Point Lick and Mrs. John E. Anderson of Point Leavell.

She was a consistent Christian—was a member of Fairview Christian church at the time of her death, and had been a member of the church for forty years.

Funeral services were held at the home Saturday afternoon, Rev. Holder, her pastor conducting the service. She was laid to rest by loving hands under a mound of beautiful ferns and flowers in Point Lick cemetery.

Card Of Thanks.

We wish to extend our sincere thanks to our friends for their many acts of kindness and expressions of sympathy during the illness and recent death of our mother.

LOWER ASSESSMENT

Judge Lancaster Will Recommend Lowering Assessments.

A recommendation that the Board of Supervisors reduce the assessment in some degree proportionate with the decrease in land prices that has come since the assessment was taken in July will be made by County Judge Lancaster when the Board of Supervisors meet on March 7th.

Just what the final valuation will be depends on the attitude of the State Tax Commission, Judge Lancaster says. An effort to increase the valuation gradually until 100 per cent valuations obtain has been the policy of the State Tax Commission, and friction has resulted several times between Scott taxpayers and the State Commission made on the Scott assessments.

Several taxpayers declare that land has dropped fully 50 per cent in value, but whether the tax readjustment should come this year or next is a debatable question, they say.

The Board of Supervisors will begin their work the first Monday in March and continue for two or three weeks after which they will take a ten-day recess and reconvene to hear complaints.—Georgetown Times.

A handsome eight pound boy arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Wood last Monday. His name is Harold Thomas.

Friends will be glad to know that Mr. T. W. Bradshaw is rapidly recovering from an operation at the Danville hospital. Mr. Bradshaw is 78 years old.

Kennedy Farm

Brings $110.00.

A large crowd attended the sale of Mrs. Jennie Kennedy's farm in the East End Tuesday. The place of 183 acres was bought by her son, M. O. Kennedy, at $110 per acre. The land is rich and lays well and a year ago would have sold probably for $200. Corn sold at $3.20 per barrel and milk cows at $37 to $45. Other things brought satisfactory prices.—Interior Journal.

Taking The Schools

Out Of Politics.

We are publishing an interesting communication from State Superintendent of Public Instruction, Geo. Colvin urging County Boards of Education to disregard politics in choosing County Superintendents. In other words, Mr. Colvin urges the divorce of the public schools and politics. Fine idea. How would it do, however, to start at the top and take the State Superintendent out of politics? If memory is not at fault, Superintendent Colvin was one of the most ardent Republicans on the stump in Kentucky during the last campaign and one of the severest critics of the Democratic party. It would be interesting to know, also, whether the employees in Mr. Colvin's office have divorced from politics. Let's start right.—(Cynthiana Democrat)

Easy Life Until

You Try It.

"Give me the life of a farmer," shouted the Town man. All right, and with it the big rain that washes away the fresh plowed field; the hot, scorching wind that burns up the crop; the 1c tobacco; the corn-eating hog, the packer gets for nothing; the fruit orchard nipped by frost; the wheat the miller gets for a nice little song; the big note now due; and for good measure the 1,000 other delightful worries that are peculiarly his, and that no other class of people in the world have to contend with. He has more to worry about between 3:30 a. m. and the time dark sets in than the president of 20 corporations has to bother about in twenty years. It's a man's life, a man's job and worth more than the mere living the farmer gets out of it. Try it and start in on your job next spring with the first thaw and mud!—Glasgow Times.

DELEGATES PROTEST

Against Disapproval Of Federal Highway

WILL VISIT WASHINGTON.

Five of the seven counties interested in the proposed Federal Highway through Lancaster and this section of the State were represented at the road meeting held at the court house in Danville Tuesday. Mr. J. E. Robinson, of Lancaster, president of the road organization, was chairman of the meeting and Hon. Henry McElroy, of Lebanon, was the secretary. About twenty-five representatives from Garrard, Boyle, Marion, Green and Taylor counties were present says the Danville Messenger.

Quite a number of speeches were made and it was the consensus of opinion that the Federal Government can be induced to approve the highway through this section. It was stated that an official had recently disapproved the proposed road, but in view of the fact that all necessary funds are ready to build the highway that the Government would reconsider the matter if the question was properly put before the department at Washington.

Committee Named.

A motion was adopted authorizing the chairman to appoint a committee to go to Washington and present the claims of the various counties to the Department of Roads, and the following were named: Henry L. McElroy, of Marion; Woodson Lewis, of Green; Vernon Richardson, of Boyle; and Judge L. L. Walker of Garrard county. These men were asked to go to Washington at the earliest possible time and ask that the disapproval of the project be changed.

A motion also passed at the meeting to the effect that County Judge of each of the seven counties appoint one representative each to form an executive committee for the purpose of working on the Federal Highway project. W. P. Myers, of Marion and J. A. Cheek, of Boyle, were suggested as two of the members of the executive committee and others will be named later.

The delegates were entertained at luncheon at the New York Restaurant at noon as guests of the Danville Chamber of Commerce.

Barnard

The remains of Mr. E. C. Barnard, who died at his home in Washington City last Sunday, were brought to Lancaster for interment yesterday. About thirteen years ago Mr. Barnard was married to Mrs. Juliet Gill Rogers, of this city and since that time have made their home in Washington City. Mrs. Barnard has the deepest sympathy of a large circle of friends and relatives here, where she is so well known and loved.

For many years Mr. Barnard has been in the service of the United States Government and at the time of his death he was commissioner of the United States section of the International Boundary Commission of the United States and Canada. He was born in New York fifty-seven years ago.

Mr. Barnard from 1884 to 1900 served with the United States Geological Survey, mapping sections of Kentucky, Tennessee, Virginia and New York in the East and of California, Montana, Oregon and Washington in the West. He was in charge of the party that went to Alaska in 1898 to map the Forty-mile and Nome districts.

Later as chief topographer of the United States and Canadian Boundary Commission, he surveyed and relocated the boundary line along the forty-ninth parallel from the Pacific coast to the Lake of the Woods.

Unable To Pay $200

Alimony, Court Told.

(Louisville Times.)

James G. Cecil, Boyle county farmer, filed an affidavit in Judge Wallace's court recently setting out the fact that the income from his estate is only $3,200 a year and that out of this sum he has to pay $2,400 for the support of his aged mother, who is in delicate health and needs the constant care of a physician and nurse. Because of this fact the affiant said he is financially unable to pay his wife, Mrs. Rebecca T. Cecil, a resident of Louisville, $200 a month for her support and the support of an infant son.

Cecil is suing his wife for divorce on ground of abandonment. He said that at the time of the abandonment three children were depending on him and his wife for support but that since then the eldest son is at work in Cleveland, Ohio, and is self-supporting and that the daughter is in New York and is not depending on either parent for support.

Mr. Cecil came to Louisville to confer with his attorney, Judge Shackelford Miller, and while there he will be required to give his deposition on motion of Jas. Garrett, attorney for Mrs. Cecil, after which Judge Wallace will fix the allowance. Mr. and Mrs. Cecil were both in court, but there was no sign of recognition.

What Normal Blood Pressure Really Is.

We hear so much nowadays about blood pressure that it is quite timely to know what pressure is normal. It should be said that, whatever be the normal blood pressure, it varies very considerably; a glass of wine, a hearty dinner, any excitement, a brisk walk, severe brainwork, a cup of black coffee, a closely contested game of bridge, these are typical of many little things that will cause a decided increase. Therefore a single reading rarely gives an accurate indication of the normal blood pressure of the individual, the average of several readings being necessary. And it varies also with age.

The Journal of the American Medical Association quotes the results of tests made by Dr. W. C. Alvarez on several thousands of students of both sexes at the University of California, published in the Archives of Internal Medicine:

"From these it appears that the blood pressure in young women is much more uniform than in men. The range for the women was practically from 85 to 155; for men it was from 90 to 175. Fifty per cent of the women's readings fell between 105 and 119 mm.; 50 per cent of the men's fell between 116.5 and 136.5 mm. High blood pressure appears earlier and to a greater degree in young men than in young women.

Such are the figures. Ranges of data may include the abnormal as well as the healthy normal. A mathematical interpretation of the valuable California data suggests that pressures over 130 mm. for women and over 140 mm. for men between 16 and 40 was 115 mm.; for men, 126.5 mm. From clinical experience, Alvarez concludes that pressures over 127 in women and over 130 in young men are indicative of a hypertensive diathesis which is associated with many typical symptoms and findings."

GARRARDITE

G. L. Compton Dies In Western Home In Ninetieth Year.

Mr. G. L. Compton many years ago was a resident of Garrard County, having been born near Huena Vista and was an uncle of C. F. Ison. The following account of his death and early history of his life we clip from an Independence, Mo., paper and will be of interest to many of the older residents of the county:

George L. Compton, in his ninetieth year, died at 11 o'clock Monday morning at his home on West Maple avenue. George L. Compton was born in Garrard county, Ky., September 28, 1831, and was therefore in his 90th year. He came to Missouri as a young man in 1854. With a friend he had started to California seeking adventure. They stopped off in Independence and Mr. Compton was offered a job working on the farm of Dr. David Waldo. He remained on the farm but a short time when he was offered a position as driver for the stage coach which then was the only means of communication between Independence, then the Western settlement of the county touching the great prairies, and Santa Fe, New Mexico. For several years he drove the stage coach and the mail wagon over the old Santa Fe Trail.

In 1856 he was married to Miss Iza Poteet and settled down to the business of farming, stock raising and stock trading. His knowledge of the values of stock was such that he inclined to dealing in the cattle, hogs and horses and carried this business along with his farming. Mr. Compton was a good farmer and prospered and in 1886, when the boom struck this section, began dealing in real estate. He retired from active business about fifteen years ago, but until two years ago still was an active man, taking an interest in all the affairs of the county and state and making an annual visit to California, where he maintained a winter home. The California trips were abandoned two years ago, when Mr. Compton became so feeble in body that he did not desire to be that far away from his family.

Ten Living Children.

There were twelve children, ten of whom are living. The living children are: Mrs. Lewis Lowe Blue Spring, Mo.; Judge J. V. Compton, Miss Mollie Compton, and L. F. Compton of Independence; Mrs. Thomas Campbell of Lee's Summit, Mo.; George H. Compton, of Independence; P. A. Compton of California; Mrs. E. M. Stayton of Independence; Emmet Compton of Baker, Mont.; Shannon Compton of the home address.

There are fourteen living grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

Mr. Compton himself was the youngest of a family of thirteen children. While no one outside of the family heard him mention the fact, his mother was a Itismuke and a first cousin of President Zachariah Taylor.

On Santa Fe Trail.

Many are the adventures of this long and useful life. He used to tell about his trips between Independence and New Mexico, and has often said he has stood watching buffalo run at a high speed in a great herd in such numbers that it required one hour for the herd to pass a given point. Other herds followed equally as large. He was probably the last living man of this section who was active in driving over the old Santa Fe Trail between Independence and Mexico. Not a few times was his return load from Santa Fe made up entirely of sacks of silver dollars. If he came into Independence after the banks were closed, it was the custom to unload these sacks of silver dollars on the sidewalk on South Liberty street, just below where the Christmas-Sawyer Bank now is and leave the money lying there over night unguarded.

In a conversation a few months ago, Mr. Compton was asked by a young man if he would wish to begin his life over again. He said, "I do not. I would not trade my chances to heaven, which is now very near to me, for every thing in the whole world." This was in a way his philosophy of living. He was an earnest member of the Southern Methodist Church and a familiar figure, up to just two Sundays ago, on the front seat. He could not hear what was said, because for a number of years his hearing had been exceedingly bad but the association with others at the service and the feeling of the service was always a great pleasure to him.

Mr. Compton was a good farmer and a shrewd trader and accumulated a considerable fortune during his long life time. While during the most recent years of his life his body became very feeble, his mind continued to be active and clear and he enjoyed nothing more than to negotiate a trade in real estate, or property and would always conduct those negotiations himself. He loved younger men and delighted to sit and talk with them.

When Osteopathy was in its beginning, Dr. Still then a young man, known later as the "Old Doctor," made a visit to Independence and remained there for some weeks as the guest at the Compton home. Mr. Compton was very much interested in this work which was the first introduction of Independence people and almost the first introduction of the science osteopathy in the country as Dr. Still was the originator of the system.

Mr. Compton's family has been prominent in civil, religious and political affairs in Jackson county and Independence for two generations and several of his sons and daughters still live in Jackson county and are still active. He was probably the oldest living citizen at the time of his death.

The definite arrangements for the funeral will not be made till relatives at a distance are heard from.

SMILES COME AGAIN TO PRETTY FACES

The Charm Of Good Health Has Its Source In Red Blood.

NOTHING ON EARTH SO NECESSARY FOR BEAUTY.

Pepto-Mangan Builds Red Blood, Restores The Quality Of Your Blood, Brings Back Your Color And Renews Vitality.

Personal charm is like a light. It sheds its rays everywhere. Is the light of your personal charm hidden under the bushel of bad blood? Instead of habitual smiles do you wear a tired look—almost a scowl? Do you tire easily? Are you pale and lacking in vital energy and ambition?

You are not really ill. Your blood has become weak and sluggish. It is half starved. What you need is the blood-making qualities of that splendid tonic, Pepto-Mangan. After you have taken Pepto-Mangan a little while you will feel a big improvement. The smiles will come back. People will see a difference in you. You will make friends again. You will have plenty of rich, red blood and feel stronger.

Pepto-Mangan has been building red blood for years. Physicians prescribe it right along. It has just the ingredients that starved blood needs. Sold in liquid and tablet form. Both have the same effect. But be sure you get the genuine Pepto-Mangan. Ask for "Gude's" and be sure that the full name, "Gude's Pepto-Mangan," is on the package. (Adv.)

Why Not In Kentucky?

Columbus, O.,—Complete abolishment of state oil inspection and the removal not only of district inspectors but the chief inspector as well will be recommended by Governor Davis in the reorganization of the state government, he announced recently "unless," he said, "need for such inspection becomes clearly more apparent than would be indicated by the kind of inspection service which has been given in the past."

Dismissal of the 40 district oil inspectors, the governor said, was the first step in weeding out unnecessary employees all along the line in the state's service.

It is openly hinted that labor and capital will soon be pulling together, but nothing is said as to whether they will both be pulling in the same direction.

PRESIDENT ASKS AID FOR CHINESE

Wilson Calls On Kentuckians to Save 40,000,000 From Starvation

E. Y. MULLINS IS CHAIRMAN

Forty million Chinese face starvation and although relief be sent immediately, many millions will die before it can arrive. This is the summary of President Wilson's proclamation asking the Nation to help the Chinese and which appeal the Rev. Dr. E. Y. Mullins, president of the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, Louisville, Ky., answered by accepting the chairmanship for Kentucky of the China Famine Fund.

Dr. Mullins in making public the President's proclamation, said no campaign, in the sense of a personally solicited canvass, would be held, but beginning early in February the people of Kentucky would be asked to send voluntary contributions to the State Headquarters in Louisville.

President Wilson's proclamation follows:

"A famine, alarming in its proportions, today holds in its grip several important provinces in China. The crop failure is complete, and the present distress, which is great, is likely, before winter has run its course, to become appalling. In fact, our diplomatic and consular agencies in China, inform me that the loss resulting from death in distressing form may run into millions of souls. It is certain that the local government and established agencies of relief are unable to cope with the magnitude of the disaster which faces them.

"Under the circumstances, relief to be effective should be granted quickly. Once more an opportunity is offered to the American people to show that prompt and generous response with which they have invariably met the call of their brother nations in distress.

"The case of China, I regard as especially worthy of the earnest attention of our citizens. For an unusual degree the Chinese people look to us for counsel and for effective friendship, our churches, through their religious and medical missionaries, their schools and colleges and our philanthropic foundations have rendered China an incalculable benefit, which her people recognize with gratitude and devotion to the United States. Therefore not only in the name of humanity but in that of friendship which we feel for a great people in distress, I venture to ask our citizens shall, even though the task of giving is not today a light one, respond as they can to this distant but appealing cry for help."

President Wilson in sending his proclamation to Dr. Mullins and through him to be made public, called on the seminary president to take charge of the campaign in Kentucky.

Norman H. Davis, Under Secretary of State, is honorary treasurer, and Vernon Munroe is treasurer for the national campaign. Joseph Hodge, of the Peaslee Gaultier Company, is treasurer for Kentucky.

Yes, we are an advocate of universal disarmament, provided it begins with our American crop of thieves, thugs and holdup men.

Foley's Honey and Tar is the best known and most successful family cough medicine on the market and the following letter is positively true and genuine:

Says "It Acts Like Magic"

Gilbert Fleming, 3311 Bedford Ave., Los Angeles, Cal., writes: "I have much pleasure in testifying to the very great benefit my family and I have derived from the use of Foley's Honey and Tar. It positively acts like magic, and to my mind there is nothing on the market that can compare with it. Whenever there are any of our household suffering from heavy colds or bad coughs or hoarseness, we at once get a bottle from our local drug store, and after one or two doses obtain instant relief. Your company deserves great credit for such a valuable product and from our own experience we cannot do otherwise but recommend it to our friends and thus we willingly do and will continue to do so."

Our Methods
are Modern

We do not hesitate to change the methods of handling our accounting and other clerical work, if by so doing increased efficiency and economy will result.

A large part of the work that once was done slowly and painstakingly by hand is now handled rapidly and with far greater accuracy by machines. A much larger working force than we now have would be required to handle our business if we still employed old-fashioned methods.

We do not aim, however, to let the increased use of machines cause us to grow machine-like in dealing with our customers. In this respect we intend always to remain intensely human.

Which Appeals To You?

When you open your mouth what kind of a noise do you make?

Every time you speak a good word for this town you speak for yourself, for the home booster is always respected by home lovers.

It's an easy thing to make a nasty remark about your town, but it is difficult to stop that remark from traveling after it has once been uttered.

The monkey in the jungle swings from limb to limb and from tree to tree at remarkable speed, but the monkey is a snail compared to the caustic comments of a chronic pessimist.

The monkey does berate either the limbs or the trees, for they are his home—they mean safety and comfort to him.

The pessimist, however, is not as considerate.

His happiest moments are when he is slamming his home town.

Nothing is right.

None of its numerous citizens possess the ability to perform civic duties in the proper manner.

Other people are unable to see the glaring defects that are so plain to him.

He lives in darkness and radiates gloom.

He is simply a pessimist, and the work of the pessimist is too often destructive.

At why be a pessimist? Why not be an optimist instead?

Pessimism is worse than rheumatism. The one puts a few joints out of proper order, but the other is a drag to the mind, the body and the soul.

Station yourself on a street corner and watch the people go by for an hour. Ninety-nine out of a hundred will be happy, and cheerful, and contented, and will give you a cheerful greeting. They are optimists unawares. The rays of the noonday sun are not brighter or warmer than the smiles upon their lips or the humanity in their hearts.

The hundredth man may be different. He may be the odd sheep in the flock, the cloud that dims the brightness of the community light. He is a pessimist, and he knows it. His soul is shrouded in gloom from which he never seeks to escape. He is a bore even to himself.

The pessimist is never happy—the optimist is seldom sad.

It is possible to be either, but never both.

Which appeals to you?

MUST TAKE EXAMINATION
For Tax Commissioner.

Under a recent enactment of the Legislature all candidates for the office of Tax Commissioner are required to take an examination before the County Attorney. Section 4042n-11, Kentucky Statutes, recites as follows:

"Before any person's name shall be placed upon the ballot at any primary or regular election as a candidate for the office of County Tax Commissioner, he shall hold a certificate from the State Tax Commission that he has been examined by them and that he is qualified for the office. During the month of January, 1921, and every four years thereafter, the State Tax Commission shall prepare a list of questions on the applicant's experience as an assessor, his knowledge of the revenue law, his knowledge of the geography of the county in which he expects to become a candidate, his knowledge of the industries and property of such county, and his elementary training and business experiences to fill such office."

Not later than the second Monday in February of each year in which such examination is to be held the State Tax Commission shall send to the county Attorney by registered mail, securely sealed with the seal of the State Tax Commission, a list of such questions, and the County Attorney shall securely keep them with seal unbroken until the second Monday in March when the examination shall be held. On the date fixed for the examination the said examiner shall hold a meeting at the county seat beginning at nine o'clock A. M."

Don't Prod Your Liver to Action

NR Overcomes Bilioousness, Constipation, Sick Headache, Quickly, No Gripping or Pain. Guaranteed.

The organs of digestion, assimilation and elimination—the stomach, liver and bowels—are closely allied, and the proper action of any of these organs is largely dependent upon the correct functioning of all the others.

"Whipping" your liver into action with calomel or forcing your bowels with irritating laxatives or strong cathartics is a great mistake. A better, safer plan is strengthening and toning the whole digestive and eliminative system with Nature's Remedy (NRI Tablets), which not only brings immediate relief, but genuine and lasting benefit. It acts on the stomach, liver, bowels and kidneys, improves digestion and assimilation, overcomes biliousness, corrects constipation and quickly relieves sick headache.

Get your system thoroughly cleansed and purified for once; stomach, liver and bowels working together in vigorous harmony, and you will not have to take medicine every day—just take one NRI Tablet occasionally to keep your system in good condition and always feel your best. Remember it is easier and cheaper to keep well than it is to get sick.

Get a 50c box and try it with the understanding that it must give you greater relief and benefit than any bowel or liver medicine you ever used or no pay. Nature's Remedy (NRI Tablets) is sold, guaranteed and recommended by your druggist.

There is said to be more crime in the United States today than at any other time in the history of the country. And we have more aliens who are opposed to law and order than at any other time. PERSONAL DONATION

By Jno. D. Rockefeller, Jr., $1,000,000 Gift.

John D. Rockefeller, Jr., has contributed $1,000,000 to the fund of $33,000,000 being raised by the European Relief Council for the salvage of child life in the war-wasted countries of Eastern Europe.

When Herbert Hoover was presented with this great gift, he made it clear that the contribution came from Mr. Rockefeller as a personal donation and that it was in no part that of his father or a benefaction from Rockefeller foundation.

Mr. Hoover, said he simply was out getting the money needed to save the lives of the starving children. He said the people of the United States had more than they need, with an eighteen months food supply in hand and a mounting surplus that is causing unemployment, and yet were not responding readily to the call of the suffering.

"Something must be wrong if such a situation is allowed to continue," he said. "If we would preserve the foundations of civilization we cannot allow it to go on. The people of suffering Europe must be given the knowledge that America stands behind every project to promote the welfare and happiness of humanity."

"Peace itself is predicated upon good will among men rather than upon documents. There is nothing that so maddens men as to see their children, perishing about them, so I say that if peace is to endure the suffering of these innocent little victims of war must be relieved."

A check to Richard Bean, Kentucky Treasurer, addressed to any bank in the State will help complete this fund.

One of the first acts of the new congress should be a revision of our immigration laws. With more than three million men now out of employment in this country one begins to wonder how the hundreds of thousands pouring in from Europe are going to earn an honest living. There is nothing to be gained by turning America into an international poor farm.

TAKE BIG DROP
Manufacturer Of Well Known Ranges Lead In Sweeping Price Reduction.

The general reduction of twenty to twenty-five per cent in retail prices announced by the manufacturer of Great Majestic ranges marks the first break in the price of such commodities.

Such an announcement clearly indicates that lower iron and labor costs are anticipated though no decided changes have yet been announced in these lines.

It has been made known that the policy of this manufacturer is to make a large scale reduction at once in order to get back to a normal basis immediately instead of making several smaller reductions throughout the year.

Such noteworthy steps toward the establishment of back to normal prices are perhaps a most effective measure in contributing to the stabilization of present business conditions.

People who make the most noise generally have the least to say.

There seems to be a tendency on the part of many people to continually criticize others of their acquaintance. It isn't done with the intention of doing harm to the person criticised—at least not always—but is simply a case of seeing the worst side of human nature when the brighter side could be viewed to much better advantage. None of us are perfect—not even the critics themselves—but we would all be better citizens if we were to confine ourselves to recognizing and fostering the good in humanity instead of stirring the bad.

Just A Little Truth

America is suffering from what might be termed our national ailment—an almost universal desire to obtain something for as near nothing as possible.

The manufacturer is not content with a moderate profit.
He hungers for a continuance of the rich dividends that accrued during the war.

Railroad and corporation officials would no doubt feel tremendously peeved if one were to suggest that they accept a reduction in their own salaries, although they are keen on cutting down the wages of their own employees.

The employees themselves
aspire to the maximum wage,
but are seldom averse to reducing the amount of work performed.

It's the same in every line of business in every walk of life.

Throw a scrap of meat into the henyard and the spryest of them will grab it and duck for safety. It wants to hog the whole thing.

Human beings are much the same as chickens.

Each one wants to grab as much as possible of everything in sight and let the other fellow be content with what is left.

We are eternally emitting roars of protest over the continued high prices. But we are like nations that advocate disarmament—we wait for the other fellow to step down first.

Everybody admits that something must be done, but nobody feels that he is the one to do it.

We are inconsistent and illogical, but no worse than the rest of the world.

As an illustration, of the truth of this statement, how many of you are willing to admit that our remarks are true in so far as other people are concerned, but that you can not see where they apply to you?

But cheer up—let your vir-tuous indignation cool off and ooze out. Perhaps the editor is as deep in the mud as you are in the mire, for we frankly own to a hankering for more than we get.

This ailment is not confined to Americans alone. The whole human race is afflicted with it. It began when Adam plucked the forbidden fruit, and has been growing upon us ever since. It will end only when human life ceases to exist.

Everybody knows it, and many admit it.

Truth is stranger than fiction, sometimes, and life is the greatest story of all.
That's what ails us.

Everybody's Day.

Clean up—look up stay up!
It is only a matter of a few weeks when spring cleaning will be with us again.

Let's be ready for it, improve upon the work of past years, and make this town a place of beauty.

Let's make it everybody's day.

If everybody leaves it for somebody else to do nothing will be done except in a perfunctory manner, but if we all
"go to it" with a determination to excel it will only require a small amount of work on the part of each individual.

The logical way to do a thing is to pitch right in and stick to it until it is done, and then hold it there—don't allow any slipping or sliding back to the old level.

Mediocre results may be good enough for some localities, but they are not satisfactory to the people of this town.
We want something better,
something out of ordinary,
quite in keeping with the thrift and intelligence of our community.

Why can't we have a general spring cleanup day, when every citizen will get out and put the polish on our town—remove the debris from certain streets, clean up back alleys and unsold thoroughfares, and place the stamp of cleanliness, sanitation and beauty upon the whole community?

No one objects to closing the business houses for a day in order to hold a town picnic or other celebration. That is a common occurrence all over the country, and everybody has a gala time.

But who ever heard of a town closing up business in order to take a municipal bath?
It's a good move for this town to inaugurate.

We're for a cleanup holiday, with everybody in action.
Are you? Say "yes."

MANY SUFFER

From Financial Failure

Hon. C. C. Bagby, of Danville, Files
Deed Of Assignment, With Liabilities Over $300,000

Late Saturday evening C. C.
Bagby, prominent lawyer of Danville made an assignment with liabilities reaching almost $300,000. John H.
Stout and J. A. Robinson were named as assignees. The assets are about 8,000 acres of knob land in the northern part of the county, several acres in Garrard county and about forty houses in Danville. Also listed with the assets is a life insurance policy of $200,000.

Mr. Bagby gave as the reason for his action the temporary money stringency and the low price of tobacco. He has been engaged extensively in the production of tobacco in the knob lands of Boyle county.
He has sixty tenants and in recent years has built over sixty tobacco barns and a number of tenant houses. The greater part of his indebtedness was incurred in the support of the tenants during the time they were making the 1920 crop of tobacco and for material used in making improvements on his numerous farms. In 1919 his tenants raised a large acreage of tobacco, which sold on the Danville breaks for over $50,000.

Exceptional Optimism Shown

The plan of Mr. Bagby to purchase the knob lands reflects unusual optimism. About five years ago he began buying up the knob lands.

In order to purchase the knobs and erect houses for the tenants and barns for the tobacco Mr. Bagby borrowed money and finances were tendered him on all sides. Most of the money was borrowed at 6 per cent interest and only the revenue from the investment and the principal were promised in return.

The business was progressing all right and Mr. Bagby thought he was making money, he said, when the slump in tobacco prices this year caused creditors to push him for their money, with their result he was unable to meet their demands.

He is one of the best liked citizens of Boyle county, his friends say.
Some state that he could have run for any political office in the county and would have been elected.

Even now, when some of his creditors are in fear of losing part of their money, there is little, if any, ill feeling against him. His friends are solidly behind him and are hopeful he will be able to make good his debts.

Mr. Bagby is a member of the law firm of Bagby & Hugueley and is considered one of the most competent attorneys in Central Kentucky.

He borrowed money not for a firm or corporation, but as an individual —as one who saw immense wealth within easy grasp and as one who yet is not disillusioned. He feels that if his property is sold gradually and at a time when business generally is not in its present state of depression, that everything will come out all right in the end.

A Pathetic Instance.

Among his creditors is Mrs. Lizzie Smith, 68 years old, and alone in the world with the exception of a sister.
He borrowed $1,600 from her and owes $50 interest, she says.

Since her husband's death about thirty years ago Mrs. Smith has worked with the needle, and at present is employed to alter clothing in the Robertson department store at Danville.

While working for $1 a day years ago Mrs. Smith saved money and supported herself, too.

Finally she loaned the $1,600 she had saved to Mr. Bagby. That was about five years ago. Up until a short time ago, she said Saturday, he always kept the interest on her money paid. Mr. Bagby says she is absolutely protected.

Then there is Mrs. Ethel Roberts, a widow, whose husband was killed four years ago in a wreck in Sloan's valley, while working as a brakeman for the Southern railroad. She received $5,000 from the railroad.
This amount and part of the insurance money, was loaned to Mr. Bag-by, who is indebted to her and her four-year-old child for $7,000, she declared.

However, at the time of her husband's death, Mrs. Roberts said she was not of age, and a guardian was appointed for her. There are two bondsmen, and she feels certain this debt, or the greater part of it, is secured. This debt, Mr. Bagby stated is safe for her.

cent of applicants at their offices.

More than two hundred answers

the situation which surrounds the rehabilitation of disabled veterans of the World War, presented to the President-elect and Congress by the American Legion, have been received at National Headquarters by F.
W. Galbraith, Jr., National Comm-senators and representatives wrote that they would support the Legion's program for reform of the rehabilita-

National Headquarters of the American Legion has distributed five thousand copies of a manual which members of the Legion's national speakers' bureau will use during the approaching membership campaigns.
The manual, which was prepared by vice men and the country and sets forth plans of the Legion for the

The present system of immigration was condemned by members of the Braxton County Post of the American Legion at Sutton, Va., in a vote following a discussion of the problem. Forty-nine per cent of the vote was for stopping immigration entirely; eleven per cent for forbidding it for two or three years, and forty per cent for establishing an effective system of regulation. There were no votes in support of the prevailing system.

In recognition of the American Legion's efforts in behalf of disabled veterans, the sick and wounded ex-service soldiers of Detroit have or-

Following an appeal by the New

'Tis often said that coming wents cast their shadows ahead. This was very successfully last Friday morning. The class bell rang three minutes earlier. Picture Presented To L. H. S. By The Seniors.

The teachers and pupils of the Lancaster High School are very enthusiastic over the picture of various famous colleges, presented to them by the Senior class of 1921. The pictures are enjoyed by every pupil and visitor as they can be seen on the walls of the various rooms and halls of the High School. We are sure the pictures will help the pupils very much by erecting in them a great desire to go to some of these great colleges. All wish to congratulate the Seniors in doing this.

TESTS

Must Be Taken By All Tax Commissioners.

Examinations Are To Be Prepared
By State Board At Frankfort.

(By William S. Kaltenbacher.)

For the first time in Kentucky, those who aspire to assess property for taxation in any county in the State, will this year, have to pass an examination to test their qualifications before they can be voted for at either the primary or general election.

This puts into effect a law passed by the 1918 Legislature, which abolished the office of County Assessor and created instead that of County Tax Commissioner and fixed the necessary qualifications for holding the new office.

For the reason that County Assessors were elected in 1917, for four-year terms, the law could not be made to apply to them, and while they took the new destination of County Tax Commissioner it was provided in the law that they were to hold on, and that the qualifications feature apply to their successors. Previous to the passage of this law, the County Assessor, like any other fiscal officer, was ineligible to succeed himself, but under the new act the County Commissioner may succeed himself in office.

The questions for the examinations for candidates for County Tax Commissioner are prepared by the State Tax Commission at Frankfort, but the examination may be conducted by the County Attorney of each county, the papers of each candidate being forwarded to the State Tax Commission for checking and grading and the necessary certificate to qualify as a party candidate for either the primary or general election.

Expect Fewer Candidates.

Under such a revolutionary procedure it is expected that there will be a decided falling off in the number of candidates for these nominations in both parties, since the examination determine qualifications, is generally agreed, will act as a strong deterrent against any but those really qualified to seek and become candidate for the office.

Under the old regime, the office of County Assessor in Kentucky, instead of being one of the most important, degenerated until it became a joke and a byword. By common consent the office in some counties was allotted to the descript and the half, or it was the custom to take care of some fellow in the county assessorship who was a good party whooper-up and was not considered sufficiently qualified to hold any other office. This does not mean some of the County Assessors were not well qualified for the work of taking the assessment, and those usually made the assessorship as stepping stone for the office of Sheriff.

As might have been expected under such an antiquated and obsolete system, the assessment for county and State taxation was generally unsatisfactory and charges of favoritism were frequently made.

The good effects of the new law were noticeable after the first assessment made under it, when the taxable assessment of property increased many millions of dollars and this has been added to by subsequent increases.

With the office of County Tax Commissioner now one of considerable importance and added emoluments it is expected to attract the most available timber as candidate, the voters all the while knowing that whoever is chosen will be equipped with the necessary qualifications to render satisfactory service.

BACKACHE IS DISCOURAGING

Nothing more discouraging than a constant backache. Lame when you awaken, pains pierce you when you bend or lift. It's hard to work or to rest. Backache often indicates bad kidneys and calls for prompt treatment. The best recommended remedy is Doan's Kidney Pills. Praise by this nearby resident's experience:

Mrs. J. S. Good, Logan St., Stanford, Ky., says: "A constant backache brought me down so I couldn't do my housework. I couldn't get relief day or night and at times I could hardly move. I had nervous headaches and the action of my kidneys caused me much annoyance. My limbs and feet were swollen and so sore I could hardly stand. Doan's Kidney Pills relieved the backache and other symptoms of kidney trouble."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Good had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

When The Flag Of The President Is Flown.

One of the honors bestowed upon the President of the United States is a special flag. This flag is not seen frequently. It does not float over the White House. Its use is reserved for the most part for occasions when the President appears in his ex officio function as Commander-in-chief of the army and navy.

The President's flag consists of the coat of arms as they appear on the President's seal, against a blue background and flanked by four stars. Its history and use are described in the monograph on "Flags of the World" of the National Geographic Society as follows:

"When the President visits a vessel of the United States, the President's flag is broken at the main the moment he reaches the deck and is kept flying as long as he is on board. If the vessel can do so, a national salute of twenty-one guns is fired as soon as possible after his arrival on board. Upon departure another salute of twenty-one guns is fired, the President's flag lowered with the last gun of the salute.

"When the President is embarked in a boat he usually directs that his flag be displayed from the staff in the bow of his barge. When he passes in a boat flying his flag, vessels of the navy parade the full guard, four rattles are given on the drum, four flourishes are sounded on the bugle, the national anthem is played by the band and officers and men salute. When the President is embarked in a ship flying his flag, all saluting ships on meeting her at sea or elsewhere, and all naval batteries fire a national salute on passing.

"Previous to the present order there were the designs displayed on flags and on colors to be used in the presence of the Commander-in-chief of the army and the navy. The navy designs was of an earlier date than that of the army, and consisted of the coat of arms of the United States as shown in the great seal, upon a blue ground. This happened to be almost identical with the infantry colors. The President's colors were designed to be distinctive from the infantry colors and consisted of a blue ground with a large crimson star outlined heavily with white. Within the star was to be seen the coat of arms of the United States and outside the star within its angles were small stars to the number of the States in the Union."

Is The Federal Reserve In Danger?

The Wall Street Journal tells us that there is a possibility that, after Mr. Harding becomes President, the War Finance Corporation will "make advances upon adequate security to American exporters desiring to trade with European countries."

The War Finance Corporation should do nothing of the kind. What the proposition means is that money raised by taxing everybody should be used to facilitate the business of a limited number of private individuals. We may have been compelled to do that kind of a thing during the war, but we should not follow such a policy now.

Much more alarming is the attack by the Wall-Street Journal upon the "autocratic Federal Reserve Board." What does this mean? The Wall-Street Journal speaks for those financiers who are "close" to the Old Guard of the Republican party. Does this attack by the financial paper upon the Federal Reserve Board give confirmation to the rumors that the Harding administration will be asked to demolish that which is best in the Federal reserve system and restore the control over national credits to a group of Wall-Street bankers?—Courier Journal.

Shooting an American officer just at this time demonstrates the mental shrewdness of the little Japs. Apparently Mr. Wilson don't want to kick up a rumpus on the eve of retiring, and it's quite as apparent that Mr. Harding can't do anything on the eve of entering.

You don't feel uncertain as to results. Baking never fails—because Calumet never falls below the proven standard of "Best by Test."

It possesses the highest quality ever put into a Baking Powder. Contains only such ingredients as have been officially endorsed by United States Food Authorities.

For weeks, for months, it keeps as fresh and full of strength as the day it left the Calumet Factories, the World's Largest, most Sanitary and Modern Baking Powder plants. It is important that you use only straight wheat flour (not self-rising flour) and pure baking powder if you wish to obtain the gluten demanded by sound health.

Calumet Gold Cake Recipe

Yolks of 8 eggs,
1 1/2 cups of granulated sugar, 1/2 cup of water, 1/2 cup of butter, 2 1/2 cups pastry flour, 3 level teaspoons Calumet Baking Powder, 1 tablespoon of vanilla. The mixture in the regular way.

Will You Save A Life?

If you were starving in your home and your neighbors passed you by in total indifference to your sufferings, what would you think of them?

In China there are thirty millions of unhappy people who are starving today because their crops have failed and there is no more food for them to eat, except such as may be sent in from outside sources.

The president of the United States has appealed to all Americans—to us—to come to the relief of these starving people, many of them helpless babes in arms.

Great contributions are being made in the large cities, and supplies are being rushed to the famished land as rapidly as possible.

But the heart of America is not alone in the metropolitan centers of population. It is everywhere. IT IS IN THIS TOWN.

Nowhere in this broad land is greater compassion and generosity to be found in proportion to numbers than that possessed by our own citizens.

But what are we doing for these starving millions?

If our people would contribute only a mite each—25 or 50 cents—it would be a God-send to many in starving China. It would save human lives which otherwise must perish.

What warm hearted lady or gentleman will undertake to lead a movement for the collection of a fund in this town, relying upon this newspaper to render every aid possible, and upon the editor to make the first contribution?

The Chinese are not begging for bread. They are miserably dying instead?

Norman Davis, Under-Secretary of State, Washington, D. C., has been designated by the president as treasurer of the fund.

As we do in this world, so must we expect to be done in the next.

CARDUI HELPED REGAIN STRENGTH

Alabama Lady Was Sick For Three Years, Suffering Pain, Nervous and Depressed—Read Her Own Story of Recovery.

Point Rock, Ala.—Mrs. C. M. Stegall, of near here, recently related the following interesting account of her recovery: "I was in a weakened condition. I was sick three years in bed, suffering a great deal of pain, weak, nervous, depressed. I was so weak, I couldn't walk across the floor; just had to lay and my little ones do the work. I was almost dead. I tried every thing I heard of, and a number of doctors. Still I didn't get any relief. I couldn't eat, and slept poorly. I believe if I hadn't heard of and taken Cardui I would have died. I bought six bottles, after a neighbor told me what it did for her."

"I began to eat and sleep, began to gain my strength and am now well and strong. I haven't had any trouble since. I sure can testify to the good that Cardui did me. I don't think there is a better tonic made and I believe it saved my life."

For over 40 years, thousands of women have used Cardui successfully, in the treatment of many womanly ailments.

If you suffer as these women did, take Cardui. It may help you, too. At all druggists. E 55

We note the absence of one unfailing sign of the approach of spring—that dreamy youth with a poem for publication.

When you get tired of selecting the members of Mr. Harding's cabinet for him, you might devote a little time to deciding what you will plant in your garden this spring. Harding won't mind.
